Dear Dr Gil,

I am a French cardiologist fellow at the Academic Hospital of Paris, France. My Chairman is Professor X. I started my residency four years ago in 2007. I have completed two years of rotations in internist medicine, in addition to one year of rotations in cardiology and one year in the department of nephrology.

I am pursuing a one-year basic science research program, beginning in November 2012, which will be part of my two-year French master's degree program at the University of Paris; the master's degree is required for my career in France and the one-year program must be completed outside of my country.

I'm deeply interested in translational medical research, medical innovation and heart transplantation. I have been working with M. Y. M.D., PhD, who is a dedicated cardiologist researcher and a heart transplant specialist. I wish to be involved in this scope so that I may have the opportunity to further improve my skills and education. My project would have to be outside the clinical setting.

I have received a grant from my French cardiologist association, so there will be no cost to your department.

Please find my resume and two recommendation letters from my chairmen attached. Thank you for your consideration and I appreciate your time. I look forward to hearing from you in the near future.

Best regards,

Marie P.
